

Special Thank You for Speaking and Writing 7 Types of Queens, King's Desire

To: King Kevin Dorival,

Thank you for enlightening and educating us on our history. The discussion on our various kings and queens was very well received at the Cleveland Avenue Kwanzaa program 2018. We truly appreciate your sharing your journey to authorship and the demonstration of self-determination! We hope your journey will continue to be filled with many successful endeavors.

P. S. Slaton was just thrilled and a little surprised even that such information and wisdom from the book has been gathered by such a man of your age. This material will supply me with things to study and research for a while. There are so many things about relationships that challenge, inspire and sadden us in light of a truly changing society today. I look forward to sharing this material with many people searching for meaningful relationships. Thank You!
